

FREE!

VIRTUAL LEARNING PROGRAM

Don't Delay: Programs Fill Quickly!

Fiona Flannagan Purveyor of Fine Firefighting Equipment:

Students will travel back in time and meet their hostess, Fiona Flannagan, a young Irish immigrant. Fiona will use her very best sales tactics, including jokes and sound effects, to lead your students through an interactive lesson about simple machines and how they work. Using Fiona's guidance and their budgeting worksheet, the students will make decisions on the purchase of fire equipment for their firehouse. They will learn how each simple machine is used and be able to identify them in everyday objects. This rich, interdisciplinary program will be an experience your students will not soon forget!

For grades 4-6. Meets NYS Learning Standards.

Celebrating Diversity in STEM

Your hostess, Fiona Flannagan, is a female Irish immigrant living in the 1920s. She has had to overcome many general and ethnic stereotypes to become a successful salesperson. Students will receive a booklet describing the struggles and challenges Fiona had to overcome to be a success.

Students will also receive a booklet exploring how race, gender and society influenced the opportunities of inventors of the past.

To schedule, please contact
Museum Educator Kathy Slade at 518-822-1875, ext. 17 or
kathy@fasnyfiremuseum.com
www.fasnyfiremuseum.com

This program is provided, in part, by a generous grant award from:

MUSEUM ASSOCIATION
OF NEW YORK

This project was made possible in part by the Institute of Museum and Library Services [CAGML-246991-OMLS-20].
"The views, findings, conclusions or recommendations expressed in this program do not necessarily represent those of the Institute of Museum and Library Services."